HEADACHE will be immediately relieved by the use of this in-valuable compound, which is purely eegetable, and is adapted to all ages and conditions.

FEMALES
will find in this delicate and palatable preparation a combination of Tonic, Alterative, and Aperient qualities, peculiarly adapted to their systems.
The specific action that this article has on the Liver and Digestive Organs, render it a complete antidote for Fever and Ague, and Bilious and Typhus Fevers.

Chaseville, (L. I.,) July 17, 1850.

Dear Siz: I have used the article of Planett's Bitters, and have derived from them great benefit. I have been subject for years past to the Fever and Ague, but since the introduction of your bitters I have entirely escaped my usual attacks, and can with confidence recommend them as one of the best with confidence recommend with confidence recommend to the confidence recommend with the confidence recommend with confide

SPRINGFIELD, June 20, 1850. My Dear Siz: It gives me much pleasure to state, that the Dyspepsia with which my wife has been so long troubled, arising from inaction of the Liver, has been entirely overcome and cured by the use of your invaluable preparation of Bitters; and for your kindness in recommending them please accept my thanks. Your obedient servant, C. L. LEECH.

The College has the usual number of classes, affords all the opportunities of a complete education, and, at the successful termination of the collegiate course, confers on its graduates the usual academical degrees.

The Grammar School, immediately adjoining the College and under the supervision of the Rector, but under distinct discipline, receives lads at the beginning of their academical course, and prepares them for the collegiate classes. The oversight and direction of the Professors of the College secure special advantages to the pupils in the Grammar school.

In the Mercantile Classes, the study of the Greek language is omitted, and its place supplied by additional studies in modern languages, bookkeeping, statistics, &c.

The location of the College is entirely healthful,

The location of the College is entirely healthful, and, by its distance from towns and villages, very favorable to good morals and order.

The whole annual charge, the same in the College and Grammar school, for the session of ten months, is two hundred and twenty-five dollars, payable semi-annually, in advance.

TO PRINTERS—A RARE CHANCE.

THE SUBSCRIBER, wishing to engage in other business, offers for sale the Sultiean County Whig printing establishment at a very low price. The Whig has been published six years, and already has a circulation of nearly eight hundred paying subscribers. Its advertising patronage is better than that of most country papers, and the office has a liberal run of job printing. The press is a Washington No. 4 Imperial, of Taylor's manufacture, and is nearly new. The type and other material are as good as can be found in a majority of country offices, and all that is required for the business. The county is bordered by the New York and Eric railroad on one side, and is one of the most growing and prosperous of the southern tier. It has now a population of nearly 30,000, being an increase of one-third in the last ten years. For the past five years the official patronage has been in the hands of the Whigs, and the prospect is lair of its continuing so to be. Only one other paper (Locofoco) is published in the county, and that is located fifteen miles farther west. To a practical printer, or any person possessing the means, this ofter affords a rare opportunity for investment, as the public patronage is rapidly increasing, and the prospect of making money never better than now.

As it is the wish of the undersigned to make immediate sale, those desiring to purchase would do well to communicate with him on the subject without delay; and any further information that may be desired will be readily given. TO PRINTERS-A RARE CHANCE.

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE
And the British Quarterly Reviews.

raenicums to new subscribers!

OWING to the late revolutions and counter revolutions among the nations of Europe, which have followed each other in such quick succession, and of which "the end is not yet." the leading periodicals of Great Britain have become invested with a degree of interest hitherto unknown. They eccupy a middle gr. and between the hasty, disjointed, and necessarily imperfect records of the newspapers, and the elaborate and ponderous treatises to be furnished by the historian at a future day. The American Publishers, therefore, deem it proper to call renewed attention to these Periodicals, and the very low prices at which they are offered to subscribers. The following is their list, viz:

THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW,
THE EDINBURGH REVIEW,
THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW,
THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW, and BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE.
In these periodicals are centained the views, moderately, though clearly and firmly expressed, of the three great parties in England—Tory, Whig, and Radical. "Blackwood" and the "London Quarterly" are Tory; the "Edinburgh Review," Whig; and the "Westminster Review," Liberal. The "North British Review" owes its establishment to the last great ecclesisatical movement in Scotland, and is not ultra in its views on any one of the grand departments of human knowledge; it was originally edited by Dr. Chalmers, and now, since his death, is conducted by his son-in-law, Dr. Hanns, associated with Sir David Brewster. Its literary character is of the very highest order. The "Westminster," though reprinted under that title only, is published in England under the title of the "Foreign Quarterly and Westminster," it being, in fact, a union of the two Reviews formerly published and reprinted under separate titles. It has, therefore, the advantage by this combination of uniting in one work the best features of both as heretofore issued. extra, §1 25.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE.

Published every Saturday, at 12; cents a Number, Yearly, in advance, $6.

BY E. LITTELL AND CO., BOSTON.

THIS work is conducted in the spirit of Littell's Worcester's Universal and Critical Dic-tionary of the English Language. following eminent testimony to the excellence of this standard dictionary. The execution of this Dictionary fully answers to its title. The Vocasulary is probably more comprehensive than that of all preceding English Dictionaries united. Constant reference is made to AUTHORITIES with respect to words newly introduced, and care is taken to note such as are technical foreign checken provided.

THIS work is conducted in the spirit of Littell's Museum of Foreign Literature, (which was favorably received by the public for twenty years.) but as it is twice as large, and appears so often, we not only give spirit and freshness to it by many things which were excluded by a month's delay, but while thus extending our scope, and gathering a greater and more attractive variety, are able so to increase the solid and substantial part of our literary, historical, and political harvest, as fully to satisfy the wants of the American reader.

The elaborate and stately Essays of the Edinburgh, Quarterly, and other Reviews; and Blackwood's noble criticisms on Poetry, his keen political descriptions of rural and mountain scenery; and the contributions to Literature, History, and common life, by the sagnatious Spectator, the sparkling Examiner, the judicious Athensum, the busy and industrious Literary Gazette, the sensible and comprehensive Britannia, the sober and respectable Christian Observer; these are intermixed with the Military and Naval reminiscences of the United Service, and with the best articles of the Dublin University, New Monthly, Fraser's, Tait's, Ainsworth's, Hood's, and Sporting Magazines, and of Chambers's admirable Journal. We do not consider it beneath our dignity to borrow wit and wisdom from Punch and duced, and care is taken to note such as are technical, foreign, obsolete, provincial, or vulgar. The definitions are clear and exact, and those pertaining to technical and scientific terms are specially valuable to the general reader. The author has evidently bestowed great labor on productation. His system of Notation, which is easily understood, and founded on a more complete analysis of the vowel sounds than we have elsewhere met with, together with his plan of exhibiting all the best English authorities in relation to words differently pronounced by different orthoepists, gives to this work important advantages as a Pronouncing Dictionary. In Observations and fluctuating, he has aimed to be consistent, and to reduce to the same rules words of similar formation. The insertion of Grammatical forms and in flections of words to a much greater extent than bitrary changes, but where usage is various and fluctuating, he has simed to be consistent, and or discounting, he has simed to be consistent, and or discounting, he has simed to be consistent, and or discounting, he has simed to be consistent, and or discounting, he has simed to be consistent, and or discounting, he has simed to be consistent, and the street of continuation of Grammatica form and construction, the grammatical form and construction, and the peculiar, technical, local, and American uses of words interspersed through the volume, give to this work much additional value. The colour of the promine the promine and or desired and improved edition of Walker's Key to the prominentation of Glassicaland Scripture proper names, with their prominents, and a greatly enlarged and improved edition of Walker's Key to the prominentation of Glassicaland Scripture proper names, are important appendages to the Dictionary was published; and its already extensive use, both among cultivated English readers, and men of wide to the containing and careful view of the present state of our language.
